REASONS FOR ALLOWANCE

1. The following is an examiner's statement of reasons for allowance:

The prior art do not fairly teach a method of recording information of real time video or audio, on a recording disc of the type having a multitude of concentric substantially circular recording tracks divided into blocks which recording tracks together define a recording area of the disc, which recording area includes a freely accessible addressable user area; wherein the information to be recorded is divided into data packets and successive data packets are recorded in different blocks of the user area; wherein, if a block appears to be defective, a replacement recording for the relevant data packet is effected in a replacement zone within the user area; and during the recording session, the replacement zone has a size that can be changed dynamically as specified in claim 1.

The prior art do not fairly teach an apparatus for recording the information of packets on the tracks of a disc that has a combination of a write control unit and an allocation manager for controlling writing packets in a first predetermined area of the user area in normal recording and data of defective packets in a second predetermined area of the user area in a replacement recording and managing the first predetermined area and second predetermined area as specified in claim 11.

The prior art do not fairly teach a method of recording information, on a recording disc of the type having recording tracks divided into blocks which recording tracks together define a recording area of the disc, which recording area includes a freely accessible addressable user area; wherein the information to be recorded is divided into data packets and successive data packets are recorded in different blocks of the user area, a defective block is recorded via a replacement recording in a replacement zone of said user area; and wherein the replacement recording comprises recording a plurality of successive data packets following the data packet effected is recorded in the other part of said user area as specified in claim 16.

Any comments considered necessary by applicant must be submitted no later than the payment of the issue fee and, to avoid processing delays, should preferably accompany the issue fee. Such submissions should be clearly labeled "Comments on Statement of Reasons for Allowance."
